J.1 INTRODUCTION

This appendix contains a list of eight (8) substantive comment submissions received during the 36-day early consultation period for the Proposed Project between February 20, 2024, and March 25, 2024, and the responses to those comments.

Following this introduction, Section 3.2 provides a list of commenters grouped by agencies, organizations, and the public. Within the groupings, commenters are organized in alphabetical order.

Section 3.3 contains copies of comments received during the comment period and responses to those comments. Commenters provided these comments in oral, written, and electronic formats. J.3 EARLY CONSULTATION COMMENTS AND RESPONSE TO COMMENTS

Commenter A-1 Russell Hooten Texas Parks and Wildlife Department

Thank you for coordinating with this Texas Parks and Wildlife Department (TPWD) in your planning activities regarding the San Antonio Airport new terminal development project. A draft Environmental Assessment (EA) will be prepared for the proposed improvements. TPWD staff were unable to attend the agency scoping meeting in February 2024; however, TPWD looks forward to receiving and commenting on the draft EA when it is available.

Response to Commenter A-1

1. Comment noted. TPWD will be notified when the draft EA is available for public comment.

Commenter P-1 Cassell

Also, captions on the videos that are being played that the hearing consumers can hear, we can't access them because we can't read the captions of what's being said. That's another piece of feedback, yeah.

And you know, for, you know, maybe there's a handicap symbol that you can put on that so that the handicapped or deaf community can recognize that this is where you go if you need some accessibility help or you know, maybe you're not sure what's going on. You've got a question. You don't know who you can ask. You know, sometimes, it's not very safe to walk around just kind of blind. You don't know where you're going. People are in a rush. You know, you might run into somebody and it can be really hard to find your way sometimes and know who to ask.

Also, outside for the parking, people have to get out of their car. They've got to bring their luggage, and then the cars themselves are rushing by and you don't feel like you've got enough time to gather your things to leave the car to get into the terminal. You know, sometimes, I don't know, I know they have a time limit. They've got to get to their next stop. But, you know, sometimes these people are in wheelchairs or there's, you know, other handicaps or disabilities and you know, maybe they should have a speed limit where they're enforced to slow down to a certain speed so that, you know, it's a safety concern and that's the priority for that.

And I've experienced, you know, going into the, you know, the tickets before and they just kind of wave at me to come up here. And I'm like, what do I do? Do you know what I need? "Well, you're flying, right?" "Yes." And sometimes, I just -- they don't understand the deaf community or the deaf culture. They need somebody there who can interpret for us because we can't speak back to them to communicate.

And sometimes in the airport, you know, there's a delay or a cancellation or there's a last-minute change and they'll make that announcement over the intercom. And then you'll see the group of people that have been waiting around suddenly get up and leave and we don't understand what has happened. And so then we have to go seek out an employee and write back and forth or hopefully, we can communicate with them for them to explain what's going on. And sometimes they're having a bad day, they're rude. You know, people don't have the best day at the airport always. And having an interpreter there would alleviate a lot these issues.

One time, I went into the airport, and you know, they've got different companies. They've got United Airlines. They've got, you know, the different carriers. At one airport that I went to, I saw that they had a video of an interpretation labeling which airlines were there. But I've only seen that at one place, and I'm curious if that would be something that can be added for an accessibility feature. There could be one screen that shows all the news and alerts with an interpreter so that the deaf and handicapped community can look at that specific screen to know what's going on for updates and alerts for that kind of thing.

And maybe it's all, you know, United Airlines. Maybe they've got one for their airline. But if I'm flying with another airline, they haven't provided any of the other information. And so sometimes, you know, I have to get a specific code or something for an emergency or if I'm going to be called. Maybe that's an idea, that they could give us a code so that we would know when it's our turn. They could flash our number on the screen or something like that.

Something else specifically to delays; sometimes people, you know, are expected to stay overnight. But one problem is, is, you know, people aren't able to eat overnight. And you know, we're stuck in the airport. You know, if they've canceled or delayed a flight, maybe they should ask people that they can stay overnight because maybe they, you know, have a job or they need to eat because of their health conditions; something like that. Maybe they're diabetic, that type of thing. Maybe they're senior citizens, and that's just too much or they haven't had enough time previously to eat prior. But maybe there should be some sort of options for people who are stuck overnight.

Something else that just crossed my mind; maybe if there was a possibility or an option on the ticket itself to label that the individual is deaf or handicapped so that if any staff or anybody needs to contact them or tell them about, you know, a delay or something like, they hopefully could identify, you know, on my ticket or somehow, that I'm a deaf handicapped individual. And so then that way, the staff knows who I am and how to communicate with me. And that's for, you know, a check-in situation or before you go into boarding. All staff should be able to quickly identify that I'm a deaf individual without having to, you know, talk to me and all of that. You know, I wouldn't be able to communicate back with them. If I could just show them my ticket, they could see with a symbol, an image or something that says see that I'm a deaf person; that I struggle with communicating orally, something like that.

And maybe they need to be more aware of how to communicate or interact with the deaf population. Maybe you know, a sensitivity training, something like that, could solve a lot of issues.

Response to Commenter P-1

- 1. The inclusion of captions on videos played at the new terminal is related to the operation of the new terminal by the San Antonio Airport System, which is outside the scope of the EA.
- 2. The inclusion of handicapped symbols and accessibility support areas at the new terminal will be considered as a part of the final design of the project. Therefore, this is outside the scope of the EA.
- 3. The inclusion of speed limits within the public parking and terminal curbside areas will be considered as a part of the final design of the project. Therefore, this is outside the scope of the EA.
- 4. The inclusion of interpreter services for the deaf community is related to the operation of the new terminal by the San Antonio Airport System, which is outside of the scope of the EA.
- 5. The inclusion of interpreter services for the deaf community is related to the operation of the new terminal by the San Antonio Airport System, which is outside of the scope of the EA.

- 6. The inclusion of video and interpretation services for the deaf community is related to the operation of the new terminal by the San Antonio Airport System, which is outside the scope of the EA.
- 7. The inclusion of overnight services, such as providing meal vouchers to passenger effected by flight delays, by the San Antonio Airport System or individual airlines is outside of the scope of the EA.
- 8. The inclusion of handicap labeling on airline tickets by the San Antonio Airport System or individual airlines is related to the operation of the new terminal and is outside of the scope of the EA.
- 9. The inclusion of sensitivity training related to the deaf community for Airport and airline personnel is related to the operation of the new terminal and is outside the scope of the EA.

Commenter P-2 Joseph Lara

Natural Resources = In state of Texas some Rest Areas has the water reuse from rain drainer to water the plants/ grass

1

I am deaf and use American Sign Language. Often I would miss the voice-over announce if the flights will be delayed, cancelled, or ready to aboard. Would be nice to have more accessible and all screen that have picture in picture American Sign Language Interpreters pre-recorded. That should inclued the TSA check-in.

If I understand correctly, there will be additional new terminal. Will there be a shortcut to walk between terminals?

Response to Commenter P-2

- The inclusion of rainwater re-use for landscaping will be considered as a part of the final design of the project. Therefore, it is outside the scope of the EA. An analysis of surface water impacts will be included in the Water Resources section of the draft EA.
- 2. The inclusion of video and interpretation services for the deaf community is related to the operation of the new terminal by the San Antonio Airport System, which is outside the scope of the EA.
- 3. The Proposed Project includes a connecting bridge that would provide secure access between the existing Terminal A and Terminal B on the Departures level (Level 2). The connecting bridge will be considered as a part of the final design of the project. Therefore, it is outside the scope of the EA.

Commenter P-3 Pammy

I just would like to leave some feedback. I'm curious. When you go into the terminal, usually, you know, with hearing people, there's lots auditory signals and stimuli and they have announcements. I wish that there was a sign where there was provided a video relay interpreter. I've not seen that at the airport.

One time, I went -- it was probably, like, 6:00 in the morning. There were a lot of immigrants there. They were just kind of outside of the building. You know, people were urinating on the street, you know. They'd walk, you know, down the way a little bit but it was really gross and dirty there. And sometimes it's right there, you know, on the floor. And it's just like, yeah, I don't know. There should be maybe a specific place for the immigrants; maybe like that's, you know, their sanctioned area. They can stay there and not go out and like, urinate on the floor and that kind of thing. It was really gross.

There was one time a gentleman, he came up to me and he started talking to me and gesturing, and he scared me. And he was speaking, of course, and I was trying to gesture that I'm deaf. And he was asking for the time, so I showed him my watch He was just like, okay and he wandered away. But, you know, it was really nerve-wracking, you know. I was kind of looking around. If something happened, there's no cops; there's no police nearby. You know, I could have been robbed or beat up or something like that. But yeah, I'm just concerned about the safety there.

And I was waiting for my husband to hurry up and join me so that we could leave. But yeah, I didn't know who was tapping on my shoulder. I thought maybe I had done something wrong. But yeah, that was an experience that I had one time that I just wanted to add with you guys. Maybe they should just have their own spot where they can put the immigration people.

Response to Commenter P-3

 The inclusion of wayfinding signage for the handicapped and deaf community will be considered as a part of the final design of the project. The inclusion of video and interpretation services for the deaf community is related to the operation of the new terminal by the San Antonio Airport System. These items are outside of the scope of the EA. 2. The draft EA will consider alternatives to efficiently accommodate the forecast increase in passengers by providing adequate space and facilities associated with aircraft gates, ticketing / check-in, passenger security screening, baggage handling, U.S. Customs and Border Protection facilities, gate holdrooms, concessions, and other ancillary facilities and services.

Commenter P-4 Scott Bishop

I fully support this transformative program. I think the growth of the Airport plays a crucial role in the economic viability and growth of our city and region.

1

Response to Commenter P-4

1. Comment noted.

Commenter P-5 Sylvia Kindred

I received an email regarding a public meeting on February 20 regarding airport changes. My only concern is regarding the parking. The basement level is now dedicated only to Valet parking. As a traveler not using valet services, by parking in the basement it used to be direct and easy to use tunnel that connected to the terminals. Now I must park on street level and wait on garage elevators to get me to/from the terminal. Definitely not as convenient as before.

Response to Commenter P-5

 The Proposed Project includes construction of a new parking structure and Ground Transportation Center that would connect passengers to the new terminal with a pedestrian bridge or extended walkway. The economy parking lot would also be expanded. The final design and operation of the parking structure, GTC, and economy parking lot are outside of the scope of the EA.

Commenter P-6 Vernell

You know, there's also a situation who might speak Spanish. You would have an interpreter for that situation. But for the deaf community, there's not an interpreter who does it. So I don't know if you guys could hire somebody to be there, you know, 24 hours a day. I don't know if that's an idea.

SIGN-LANGUAGE INTERPRETER: She's saying overnight would be a possibility.

VERNELL: There are lots of deaf travelers that come to San Antonio day and night. And then having to write back and forth is not an efficient way to communicate, especially because the deaf community isn't native speaking in English.

SIGN-LANGUAGE INTERPRETER: And some other comments.

And I agree with what he was saying because if, you know, we're sitting down waiting for our flight, if it starts boarding, we're not going to hear the announcement that, you know, the handicapped are allowed to get on; the military are allowed to get on. We're going to miss those announcements and then we might miss our flight. Maybe we fell asleep, you know. There's that type of thing as well.

Now, I also have a comment about the ticketing. A lot of times, I don't know exactly how to operate those machines. Sometimes, you know, they want me to type in English. Sometimes it's set up already in Spanish. I wish that they had an option that I could be connected with a video relay interpreter so that I could sign what I was doing, that I'm taking this flight; I'm going to this location. I could communicate through the interpreter who could then help with the payment system and all of that. I could do that there through an interpreting kiosk or something like that and then we'd be able to leave and it would be a much more effective efficient way, you know, communicating with staff.

That's all. That's all my comments. Thank you so much. If anything comes up while we're here, I'll come by and let you know. Thank you. Thank you to the interpreter too.

4

Another thing came up. So when you're on the airplane, you sit down and they typically give you your pre-flight instructions. In most of the seats in front of you, there's a screen. It would be wonderful if we could utilize that screen to have the interpreter there to explain the pre-flight instructions where the exits are, the emergency exits, all of that, where the oxygen masks are, all the pre-flight warnings. We don't have access to that information. And if we could use the screens that are right in front of us, that would be a great idea. Thank you.

Response to Commenter P-6

1. The inclusion of interpretation services for the deaf community is related to the operation of the new terminal by the San Antonio Airport System, which is outside the scope of the EA.

- 2. The inclusion of interpretation services for the deaf community is related to the operation of the new terminal by the San Antonio Airport System, which is outside the scope of the EA.
- 3. The inclusion of an interpretation kiosk or accessibility support areas will be considered as a part of the final design of the project. The inclusion of interpretation services for the deaf community is related to the operation of the new terminal by the San Antonio Airport System. These items are outside the scope of the EA.
- 4. The inclusion of video and interpretation services on airplanes is under the authority of individual airlines, and is outside the scope of the EA.

Commenter P-7 Yenter

So when you walk into the airport, you know, they usually call the passengers before you go onto the airplane and I can't hear that. And so how am I going to communicate or how will I know or be alerted that it's my turn to enter the airport? Somebody should come up to us and guide us to let us know that we have been called to board. There needs to be somebody to help, you know, whether it's on the sign if they've got captioning or something like that or somebody to come up and approach us.

And sometimes to check in, there is a long, long line to check in, even. You walk in. You're like, okay. Am I supposed to, you know, go to this line? Am I supposed to skip this line? Is there a special handicap line? You know, sometimes, I'm allowed to go to the handicap. But being deaf, you know, maybe some people aren't comfortable doing that. You know, skipping the line; but you know, if it's an emergency and I'm late for my flight, am I allowed to, you know, avoid the general line and use the handicap line?

Is that an option for the deaf people, your service members, military, that type of thing? You know, handicap people and wheelchairs and that kind of thing have the right to go around that line to check in. Are deaf people also allowed to do that?

And I also forgot to add I travel a lot and I try to usually check in on my phone, usually. But I'm not handicapped in the sense that I need a wheelchair. I'm deaf. And so when I ask for accommodations, they only ask about a wheelchair accommodation. And you know, they automatically assume that I need –

SIGN-LANGUAGE INTERPRETER: Oh, I need to clarify. I misunderstood. So when he checks in, he's -- he puts down that he's handicapped.

And I put deaf and that's all I put. And then an attendant, when I arrive, they've got a wheelchair there for me because I'm deaf. I can walk. That's not a problem. But because I put down when I checked in that I was deaf, they assumed that I needed a wheelchair for whatever reason. Maybe they should be break that down into separate tags or labels so that when I put down that I'm deaf that they don't assume I need a wheelchair. It's just, I think, a protocol or a training thing that maybe they just need to address. But it's just a confusion thing that the staff is providing a wheelchair that is not necessary.

Response to Commenter P-7

- 1. The inclusion of interpretation or support services for the deaf community is related to the operation of the new terminal by the San Antonio Airport System, which is outside the scope of the EA.
- 2. A change in check-in procedures for the handicap and deaf community is related to the operation of the new terminal by the San Antonio Airport System, which is outside the scope of the EA.
- 3. A change in check-in procedures for the handicap and deaf community, including staff sensitivity training, is related to the operation of the new terminal by the San Antonio Airport System, which is outside the scope of the EA.

Defending champion Carlos Alcaraz returns to Ugo Humbert during their fourth-round match. Alcaraz won in four sets to advance to the quarterfinals.

Alcaraz and Sinner advance to quarters

By Mattias Karen ASSOCIATED PRESS

LONDON - Defending champion Carlos Alcaraz and top-ranked Jannik Sinner are one match away from another highstakes meeting in the Wimbledon semifinals.

Both men reached the quarterfinals on Sunday as Alcaraz held off an attempted comeback by Ugo Humbert to win 6-3, 6-4, 1-6, 7-5 on Centre Court. Sinner then beat Ben Shelton 6-2, 6-4, 7-6 (9) on No. 1 Court after saving four set points in the third set.

Alcaraz beat Sinner in five sets in the French Open semifinals in June en route to his first title at Roland Garros and the two would meet again in the last four if they win their next matches. Alcaraz will play the winner between No. 12 Tommy Paul and Roberto Bautista Agut while Sinner this vear's Australian Open champion — faces No. 5 Daniil Medvedev or No. 10 Grigor Dimitrov.

Both players came up with some spectacular shots when it mattered on Sunday.

Alcaraz's match against Humbert had seemed all but over when the Spaniard clinched the second set by chasing down several seemingly out-of-reach shots on set point, even falling over after hitting one forehand and quickly getting back up to get to the next ball.

Asked to describe his play on that point, Alcaraz just said: "Unbelievable, I guess."

Humbert nearly staged a surprising comeback and threatened to take the match into a fifth set when he held three straight break points for a 5-3 lead in the fourth. But Alcaraz came back to win that game with the help of a couple of aces, then broke for a 6-5 lead by hitting a deep forehand win-

He set up match point with one of his delicate forehand drop shots and converted it with a service

"I felt great playing today, I think I played at a really high level," Alcaraz

Sinner had to come from 4-1 down in the third set and held for 5-5 after wrapping his racket behind his back and hitting the ball between his legs to get it over the net, then followed it up with a forehand passing shot to clinch the game.

"That was just luck," Sinner said about his shot.

Sinner then saved one set point at 6-5 and three more in the tiebreaker before converting his second match point when the hard-serving Shelton double-faulted.

Shelton was trying to reach his first Wimbledon quarterfinal but was coming off three straight fiveset wins, including one over Denis Shapovalov that finished on Saturday. Sinner is into the last eight for the third year in a row, having lost to Novak Djokovic in last year's semifinals.

Earlier, French Open runner-up Jasmine Paolini reached her first Wimbledon quarterfinal when Madison Keys had to retire with a leg injury at 5-5 in the third set of their fourth-round match.

Keys had served for the match at 5-2 in the last set but then started limping more and more and needed a medical timeout to get her left leg worked on after Paolini made it 5-4. She had her left thigh taped as she served for the match for a second time but was broken again double-faulting on break point — and was in tears by the end of that game, with her movement clearly restricted.

Keys tried to play on but the American finally went to the net to tell the chair umpire on No. 1 Court that she was retiring after Paolini hit an ace for 15-15 in the final game. The Italian had won the first set 6-3, before Keys won the second 7-6 (6).

Texas' lofty offensive goal: nation's most explosive team

KIRK BOHLS

While I got ya, here are nine things and one crusy prediction.

1. Ready, set, detonate. A got of the Longhorns were to begin their first workouts at 245 Wednesday alternoon, Kyle Flood put it plain and simple. The Texas offensive coordinator and offensive line coach, who met the press coach, who met the press they can't? All but one

Williams, who can blot out the sun, should be a great replacement for the departed Christian
Jones, Quarterback coach, who met the press already topped 5,500 yards passing. Flood said he doesn't know if said as doesn't know it sophomore returnees Jaydon Blue from Klein Cain or C.J. Baxter from Orlando, Fla., will be the feature back because "both are proven comfeature back because "both are proven commodities, and I expect both of them to play and

4. A Royal dis. Maybe you saw ESPN's rankings of the top 25 stadiums in college football in the three previous years.

2. Elephants in the room. Weiatkowski didn't dodge what may be the most critical issue facing the 2024 Texas defense and possibly the team, Just how does he replace the shutdown tandem of T'Yondre Sweat and Byron Murphy, the two early-round NFL draft picks who terrorized offensive lines last season? "We've got guys," the defensive boss said, "but it's tough to replace those two replace those two dudes." Hell, it may be replace mose two dudes." Hell, it may be impossible, considering the dumper they did on defense. Kwiatkowski is high on veterans Alfred Collins and Vernon Broughton from Cypress Ridge in the interior line. Neither of those has been remotely close to being a star. But then neither was Sweat nor Murphy before last fall. "So how do you do if? You coach your tail off. You know those two guys coming back have played a lot of football and they've gotten better."

Jobball and they've got-ten better."

3. Special players.
Banks got on his ped-estal and bragged on his best two special-teams players, safety Michael Taaffe and linebacker Mo Blackwell. "There's Mo Blackwell. "There's no two better guys in our program for the special team aspect of the game, how they work, how they drill, their attentiveability to gell people how we're going to do it to lead. Traylor said, "There's not any drama with those guys. It's just punching the clock every day,"
Despite the loss of long-time starters and leaders in quarterback Frank Harris and safety Rashad Wisdom, the Roadrunners return a handful of players who have been multiyear fixtures. Lineman Joe Evans and line-backers Donyal Taylor and Jimmori Robinson igni Brown and Ken Robinson among the defensive stalwarts, while Cardenas, guard Verly Tatafu and running back Kvor-ian Barmes have anchored the officuse for multiple some control of the co
